FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

WHAT IS THE PURPOSE OF THIS BOOKLET?

This booklet has been developed by the Wisconsin Register in Probate Association. It is NOT meant to provide legal advice; it is merely a guide that may help you through the estate administration process.

We suggest that you review the terms under "Definitions" on page 10 before reading on.

WHAT TYPES OF ESTATE ADMINISTRATIONS ARE THERE?

Formal and Informal Administration

There are several types of estate administrations that may be supervised by the probate court. Two of these, Formal Administration and Informal Administration, require the appointment by the court of a personal representative (formerly known as an "executor"). A Formal Administration requires the assistance of an attorney. Informal Administration may be granted without an attorney's assistance.

Summary Settlement

Summary Settlement is a type of estate administration designed to assist in settlement of small estates and does not require an attorney's assistance. Summary Settlement is available for estates having a value of $50,000 or less, if the decedent had a surviving spouse/domestic partner or had surviving minor children.

Summary Settlement is also available if the value of the estate does not exceed certain costs, expenses, allowances and claims, regardless of whether there is a surviving spouse/domestic partner or minor children. The value of the estate is calculated by subtracting from the gross amount of assets any debts for which property of the estate is security.

Summary Assignment

Summary Assignment is a type of estate administration for estates of $50,000 or less and was designed to assist in settlement of small estates that cannot be settled by a Summary Settlement. It does not require the assistance of an attorney.

IT MAY BE APPROPRIATE FOR YOU TO CONSULT WITH AN ATTORNEY BEFORE ATTEMPTING ANY OF THE FOREGOING TYPES OF ESTATE ADMINISTRATION.

Transfers of Property without Estate Administration

There is a method to transfer a decedent's assets without a court supervised administration, called "Transfer by Affidavit," for estates having a value of $50,000 or less. The person who completes and uses this form has certain legal responsibilities and it may be appropriate to consult with an attorney before deciding whether you should use a "Transfer by Affidavit" form.

WHEN IS INFORMAL ESTATE ADMINISTRATION NOT ALLOWED?

If there is a Will that prohibits informal administration, then formal administration will be required. If there is no Will (or a Will exists but the nominated personal representatives do not accept the appointment) and all the persons interested do not request or consent in writing to informal administration and appointment of the same person as personal representative, then formal administration will be required. If an interested person demands formal administration for the entire administration of the estate, then formal administration will be required.

PLEASE NOTE: It is the responsibility of the probate registrar to determine whether a Will is entitled to be probated and whether the application for Informal Administration should be denied because statutory requirements have not been met or for other reasons. Informal Administration is not allowed when the probate registrar denies the application. The denial of an application does not prevent the filing of a petition for Formal Administration by a person interested in the estate.

HOW CAN I TELL IF INFORMAL ESTATE ADMINISTRATION IS THE WAY TO GO?

The choice of estate administration is a legal decision and we cannot provide this advice to you. Decisions about which estate administration procedure would be most appropriate are often affected by the presence or absence of interested persons who do not agree on what should be done, tax issues, the size of the estate, claims, and the need to have a judge determine or decide issues such as disputed claims, the validity of a will, the meaning of the terms of a will, or who are the heirs.

First you should determine if the decedent died testate (with a Will) or intestate (without a Will). It is important that you make a diligent search for any Last Will and Testament of the decedent. If, after a diligent search, you find no Will, it may be that the decedent has left no Last Will and any estate administration must be done "intestate" (without a Will). If the decedent has not advised you where his or her original Will can be located, some places to search might include: a safety deposit box in the decedent's bank; the safe or fire box at decedent's home or wherever the decedent kept his or her other important papers. Sometimes the original Will may be found in the Office of Register in Probate where a decedent deposited it for "safekeeping" prior to his or her death. Not all counties, however, allow such deposits for "safekeeping." Sometimes the original Will may be in the possession of the attorney who drafted it. Note that there may also be an original Codicil or Codicils that modify the Will.

Next, make a list of the heirs under the statutes (see Intestate Succession Chart on page 12). Then, if there is a Will (including any Codicils), make a list of the beneficiaries (those named in the Will and Codicils).

Finally, make a list of all assets in which the decedent had an interest. Include real estate and all personal property (i.e. cash, CD's, stocks, bonds, vehicles, machinery, promissory notes, etc.). The list should include the estimated value of each asset and how each asset is owned (i.e. solely, jointly, marital, payable at death, etc.). If you are not able to obtain all this information because the assets are solely owned, just make the best list you can for now; the exact details can be resolved later.

You are now ready to determine the type of estate administration procedure required to settle the final affairs of the decedent. Choosing the right procedure is very important. You are encouraged to discuss the decedent's Will, the working relationship among the heirs and/or beneficiaries and the decedent's asset situation, as determined above, with an attorney.

If it appears that informal estate administration is the preferred procedure, read on.

WHERE SHOULD AN APPLICATION FOR INFORMAL ESTATE ADMINISTRATION BE FILED?

An application for informal estate administration should be filed in the county where the decedent was "domiciled" at the time of his or her death. However, if the decedent had no domicile in Wisconsin, an application for informal estate administration may be filed in any county in Wisconsin where property of the decedent is located.

DO I NEED AN ATTORNEY FOR INFORMAL ESTATE ADMINISTRATION?

While Wisconsin statutes do not require you to hire an attorney to assist with an informal estate administration, you may seek the advice or services of an attorney at any point during the process. Also, at any time during the estate administration process, a demand for formal proceedings may be filed with the court, at which time the services of an attorney may be necessary.

It is important for you to remember that most Probate Registrars are not attorneys. Even if your local Registrar is an attorney, statutes prohibit Registrars from giving legal advice. A Registrar's role is to advise a personal representative, within the Registrar's competence, in the preparation of any of the documents required to be filed with the court in an informal estate administration. Think of this as giving advice as to how the various forms should be completed, not giving advice as to how you should proceed in any area. This booklet is an attempt to assist the Registrar in giving a personal representative the required document preparation advice.

HOW DO I START AN INFORMAL ESTATE ADMINISTRATION?

The following startup forms are always required:

- Application for Informal Administration (PR-1801)
- Proof of Heirship (PR-1806)
- Consent to Serve (PR-1807)
(signed by nominated personal representative and may include Appointment/Acceptance of Resident Agent)
- Statement of Informal Administration (PR-1808)
- Domiciliary Letters (PR-1810)

If you have obtained the signatures of all interested persons on the Waiver and Consent form, the following forms are also required:

- Waiver and Consent (Informal Administration) (PR-1803)
- Notice to Creditors (PR-1804)

If you have not obtained the signature of all the interested persons on the Waiver and Consent form, you will be required to complete this form instead:

- Notice Setting Time to Hear Application and Deadline for Filing Claims (Informal Administration) (PR-1805)

The Probate Registrar may require the following documents, depending on local practice and who the heirs/beneficiaries are:

- Signature Bond in Estate or Trust Proceedings (PR-1809)
(or a Surety Bond that is obtained from an insurance agent)
- Affidavit of Service (Probate) (PR-1817)
- Consent to Serve as Trustee (PR-1930)
(signed by nominated trustee – may include Appointment/Acceptance of Resident Agent)
- Letters of Trust (Informal and Formal Administration) (PR-1931)
- Declination to Serve or Resignation (Informal and Formal Administration) (PR-1802)
- Order Appointing Guardian Ad Litem or Attorney (GF-131)
- Petition to Dispense with Guardian ad Litem (Informal and Formal Administration) (PR-1820)
- Order Dispensing with Guardian ad Litem (Informal and Formal Administration) (PR-1821)

- Probate Claims Notice (#HCF-13033)

You are now ready to apply for informal estate administration. It is always advisable (and in some counties required) that you set an appointment to see the Probate Registrar or a designated staff member when you are ready to file the above documents. (Don't forget to bring the original Will/Codicil/Marital Property Agreement, if any.)

HOW DO I COMPLETE THE INFORMAL ESTATE ADMINISTRATION?

The following documents are required to be filed in an informal estate administration:

- Affidavit or Proof of Publication
- Inventory (Informal and Formal Administration) (PR-1811)
(A filing fee is always required and some counties will allow the Inventory to be “exhibited” to the Probate Registrar instead of filing it.)
- Affidavit of Service (Probate) (PR-1817)
(of Inventory to Heirs/Beneficiaries)
- Estate Receipt (Informal and Formal Administration) (PR-1815)
(signed by heirs/beneficiaries and claimants)
- Statement of Personal Representative to Close Estate (Informal Administration) (PR-1816)

The Probate Registrar may require the following documents depending on local practice and/or the particulars of the estate you are administering:

- Estate Account (Informal and Formal Administration) (PR-1814)
- Affidavit of Service (Probate) (PR-1817)
(of final Estate Account to Heirs/Beneficiaries)
- Notice of Distribution to Ward (Informal and Formal Administration) (PR-1822)
(To notify the court appointing a guardian of the estate of the total property to be distributed to the guardian of the estate for the benefit of the guardian's ward at least ten days prior to the distribution.)
- Closing Certificate for Fiduciaries
(obtained by filing a Schedule CC form with the Wisconsin Department of Revenue)
- Receipt for Perpetual Care or Funeral Receipt
- Proof of Recording of Documents Transferring Real Estate
- Statement of Transfer of Interest in Property (Informal Administration) (PR-1828)
- Statement of Termination and Confirmation of Interest(s) in Property (Informal Administration) (PR-1827)

Your local Probate Registrar will advise you of the requirements in your local county.

CAN YOU GIVE ME SOME PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS?

It is your responsibility to take the Notice to Creditors or Notice Setting Time to Hear Application and Deadline for Filing Claims (Informal Administration) to the newspaper for publication. When you pay the bill for the publication, the newspaper will provide you with an Affidavit or Proof of Publication. File the original Affidavit or Proof of Publication with the Court.

Also, any form that requires notarization of your signature MUST be notarized. Remember to wait to sign the document; a notary is supposed to see you actually sign the form. You may be required to produce identification. If you are not going to come to your local Office of Register in Probate to sign the form, you can usually find a notary public at your bank. If you live in another state, you may use a local notary.

As you gather the decedent's assets in preparation for filing the Inventory form, think of the Inventory as a snapshot of the fair market value of all assets owned by the decedent on the date of death. Remember that the Inventory must be filed no later than 6 months after the appointment of the personal representative. You may be instructed to file the Inventory sooner, depending on local practice. Provide a copy of the Inventory to all interested persons. The Inventory is an important legal document that establishes the fair market value of assets on date of death and incorrect valuations can have a significant impact on the personal representative and distributees of the assets listed in the Inventory. Income tax basis problems and disputes about proportionate distribution of assets are examples of issues that may arise from improper valuation. Although you are not required to hire a qualified and disinterested appraiser to assist you in determining the value of assets, you should consider whether you have sufficient skills to appraise inventoried assets on your own. You may also wish to consult with a tax advisor or attorney before filing your Inventory.

If there are any claims filed against the estate, the law requires that the claims be “allowed or disallowed according to ch. 859.” If a claim is satisfied by you, the creditor must provide a “Receipt” acknowledging complete satisfaction or settlement of the claim. If you dispute the claim, you will be required to demand “formal administration” to have a judge decide the dispute. You must be represented by an attorney in proceedings before a judge. For this reason it is wise to seek the assistance of an attorney as soon as you determine that a claim should be disallowed. If a claim has been served on you or mailed to you, your objection, offset or counterclaim must be served upon or mailed to the claimant and filed with the court within 60 days of when the claim was mailed to or served upon you as personal representative.

If you will be selling or transferring an interest in real estate, you will be required to sign a deed or transfer document with the proper legal description (not a postal address). You may wish to have an attorney prepare this important legal document, as mistakes in the legal description can affect ownership interest in the property.

You should prepare a final Estate Account and furnish copies to all heirs/beneficiaries. Think of the final Estate Account as a record of what came in to the estate and what went out of the estate between the date of death and the completion of the estate. This form should be completed only after you have paid all the decedent's outstanding bills, including the funeral bill, costs of administration of the estate, any proper claims and all applicable taxes.

An estate can be closed any time after the final date to file claims has passed and should be closed within 12 months of the date the estate was opened or by the date set in the Notice of Estate Administration Deadlines, unless an extension is granted by the Probate Registrar.

The Statement of Personal Representative to Close Estate is normally the final document filed in an estate, but it does not mean that you are done. If, six months after filing the statement, no other proceedings are pending in the court, your appointment as personal representative terminates.

Should you need to review statute books, check your public library, the Wisconsin State Law Library (<http://wilawlibrary.gov/>) or the law library at your local courthouse. Statutes are viewable online at: <http://legis.wisconsin.gov/rsb/stats.html>.

Within the scope that has been discussed earlier in this booklet, your local Probate Registrar is here to see you through the informal estate administration process. We hope this booklet is helpful and we welcome your comments on ways that we may improve it to better assist others in the future.

WHAT SHOULD I KNOW ABOUT BEING PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVE?

First of all, a statement in a Will about who should serve as personal representative does not automatically allow you to start performing the duties of a personal representative; the statement in the Will is merely a nomination by the decedent. The Probate Registrar must appoint you before you assume the duties of a personal representative. The document that shows others you are appointed as Personal Representative is called "Domiciliary Letters." For a nominal statutory fee, the Probate Registrar will supply you as many certified copies of this document as you feel you will need at any time throughout the estate administration process.

Serving as personal representative is a VERY important job. You may be required to post a bond to protect the assets in the estate. You must keep all interested persons informed of the status of the estate proceedings and complete the estate in a timely fashion. The Probate Registrar will send you a Notice of Estate Administration Deadlines showing the Inventory due date and the date by which the estate is to be closed.

For all practical purposes, a personal representative is acting in place of the decedent. You are expected to handle the assets of the decedent just as any prudent person would handle his or her own assets.

Your duties will include taking possession of all the decedent's assets and filing an Inventory including the date of death values of all assets you have in your control. You may need to open a checking account. We cannot order that a checking account be opened, nor is it always needed. However, with a checking account you can keep accurate records of income and expenses.

You will give notice to creditors and may give notice to interested persons by publication in the newspaper. Notice must also be given to interested persons by mail or personal service if Waiver and Consent forms cannot be obtained.

You may be converting assets to cash, selling real estate, running a business, insuring and keeping property in good repair.

You will collect any income due to the decedent like interest, dividends, rent, etc. You will pay bills, settle proper claims or object to claims that are not appropriate.

There may be final and fiduciary tax returns to complete. You must file a Closing Certificate for Fiduciaries obtained from the Department of Revenue. You may petition the court for waiver of this filing. Consult with your local Registrar about this requirement. You are encouraged to utilize the services of a competent tax preparer or an attorney to help you with this aspect of the estate.

You must prepare a final Estate Account, showing all money and assets that came into the estate between date of death and distribution, and all money and assets that were paid out of the estate. You may be required to file the Estate Account with the Probate Registrar. To prepare an Estate Account, you must keep accurate records. There are many ways to keep records. An inexpensive method is to prepare a ring binder or spiral notebook for “scheduling” your financial activities, such as receiving assets, paying bills or making distributions. A sample “scheduling” page can be found on page 78 of this booklet. If you make entries in your notebook or ring binder as these activities occur, there is less chance that you will make mistakes in your accounting and it will take less time to complete your Estate Account. It will also be easier for someone to help you complete your accounting if you have kept accurate records.

You will distribute assets according to the Will and/or statutes and secure receipts from those receiving assets.

Finally, you will file a Statement of Personal Representative to Close Estate. If no proceedings challenging your Statement or otherwise involving you as personal representative are pending in the court six months after your Statement is filed, your appointment as personal representative terminates.

IMPORTANT NOTE ON TAX LIABILITY: As personal representative, you are responsible for paying any taxes that are owed by the estate or the decedent, from the estate assets. These include the decedent’s gift and income taxes, as well as the income and estate taxes owed by the estate. You may incur personal liability for these taxes if they are owed and not paid from available estate assets. You should consult with an attorney or tax advisor about these issues if you have questions about potential tax liabilities of the decedent or the estate. You should investigate whether all potential taxes owed by the decedent were paid. A starting point would be for you or your advisor to review prior tax returns of the decedent, as well as any actions of the decedent that could give rise to income or gift tax liability.

As personal representative, you may obtain a discharge from personal liability for federal tax deficiencies by preparing and filing Form 5495 with the Internal Revenue Service. A sample Form 5495 is included in this Guide beginning at page 75. Please note that the discharge from personal liability applies only for tax returns that have been filed and are listed in your Form 5495 or filed with it.

A Closing Certificate for Fiduciaries may be obtained by preparing and filing a Schedule CC – Request for a Closing Certificate for Fiduciaries with the Wisconsin Department of Revenue. A sample of Schedule CC is included in this Guide on page 73.

HOW DO I COMPLETE THE REQUIRED FORMS?

On the following pages you will find samples of the “usual” informal administration forms you will need to complete. A brief explanation appears just prior to each “Sample” form.

Wisconsin requires that you use the mandatory probate forms you see in this booklet. You may purchase a blank set of forms from your local Probate Registrar. The Registrar will tell you whether printing in black pen is allowed or if you are required to type the forms. You may also access the most up-to-date forms on the Internet at the State of Wisconsin Supreme Court website:

<http://www.wicourts.gov/forms1/circuit.htm#probate>. Most computers will have the necessary word processing software to complete the forms online. The forms are available in a PDF format, as well, and a PDF reader can be downloaded from this site.

Remember, the Probate Registrar cannot fill out the forms for you. The Probate Registrar is, however, required by statute to check the data you provide and, if necessary, request further information from you. When the forms are completed satisfactorily, the Probate Registrar will accept them for filing.

DEFINITIONS

Administration: A court-supervised process to: 1) give notice to creditors and interested persons; 2) determine who the heirs are, 3) collect and inventory assets; 4) determine and pay federal and state taxes; 5) pay claims and administration expenses; 6) transfer assets of a decedent to heirs or to beneficiaries under a Will or Codicil; and 7) account for the disposition of assets that are collected.

Beneficiary: A person named in the Will or Codicil to receive an interest in property from a decedent; sometimes referred to as legatee.

Bequest and Devise: Used in a Will or Codicil to grant an interest in property.

Codicil: A written document made by the decedent that changes an existing Will. In Wisconsin a Codicil and a Will, to be validly executed, must be executed with the signature of two witnesses and the signature of the testator or someone under his or her direction.

Deceased: A person who has died.

Decedent: The person who has died whose estate is subject to administration.

Domicile: Is the place where a person has his or her fixed and permanent home or residence to which he or she intends to return after any absence. It is not a special or temporary residence but a home or residence intended to be permanent for an unlimited or indefinite period.

Fair Market Value: A property's full value is defined as its fair market value, or the amount the property will sell for in an arms-length transaction on the open market between a willing seller not obliged to sell the property and a willing buyer not obliged to purchase it.

Heir: Any person, including a surviving spouse, who under state law is entitled under the statutes of intestate succession to an interest in property of the decedent.

Interested Person or Person Interested: Includes one or more of the following: 1) any heir of the decedent (even if not named in the Will or Codicil); 2) any beneficiary named in the Will or Codicil, and may include a beneficiary of a trust, the trustee of any existing trust, and a nominated trustee in the Will or Codicil; 3) the Personal Representative named in the Will.

Intestate: Not having made a valid Will. When a decedent has died "intestate," the distribution of assets follows the statutes of intestate succession.

Issue: "Issue" are children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, and lineal descendants of more remote degrees, including those who occupy that relation by reason of adoption (under Sec. 854.20, Wis. Stats.) and nonmarital children and their lineal descendants (to the extent provided by Sec. 852.05, Wis. Stats.).

Legal Description: A complete description of land recorded in a document filed with the register of deeds, such as occurs in a deed. Typically, this description is by lot number in a platted and recorded subdivision, or by "metes and bounds". A postal address is not a "legal description."

Per Stirpes: Property is divided into equal shares for the decedent's children, one share for each surviving child and one share for each deceased child; the deceased child's share is divided among the surviving issue of the deceased child (i.e. by right of representation).

Personal Representative: Any person authorized to administer a decedent's estate. Evidence of this authorization is found in Domiciliary Letters granted by the court or by the Probate Registrar. A personal representative may be nominated in a Will or Codicil.

Probate: Technically speaking, probate is the proof of the validity of a Will in court proceedings and the probate of the assets of a decedent involves the process of administering the assets as directed under the Will. However, probate or probate administration are terms often associated with administration of the property of persons who have died intestate (leaving no Will), as well as the property of minors, persons determined to be incompetent, and persons unwilling or unable to manage their income or assets.

Probate Registrar: An officer of the court designated to perform the functions of the court in informal estate proceedings.

Testate: Having made a valid Will. When a decedent has died "testate," distribution of assets follow the Will.

Testamentary Trust: An arrangement outlined in a Will in which one party, appointed by the court as trustee (sometimes a bank), holds and distributes property for the benefit of another.

Trustee: A person who holds in trust the title or power over property.

Will: A document, properly executed prior to death, which directs distribution of property after death and nominates who will care for and distribute property. It may nominate someone to care for minor children and/or handle assets in a testamentary trust. In Wisconsin a Codicil and a Will, to be validly executed, must be executed with the signature of two witnesses and the signature of the testator or someone under his or her direction.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT THESE SAMPLE FORMS

These sample forms are completed as if the decedent had a valid Will. This hypothetical Will provides for specific bequests to individuals and an equal sharing (25% each) of remaining (residual) cash assets after the remaining assets are sold and debts, taxes and expenses are paid. The specific bequests in this hypothetical Will are as follows:

- Mary Smith, individually: all (100) shares of GHI Company stock, toy train sets, all household furniture and furnishings, riding lawn tractor, tools, and jewelry.
- Susan Brown, individually: ACME GTS automobile, antique Shaker corner cabinet, all appliances, silver tea set, and silver dollar collection.
- Mary Smith, as Trustee of the Trust for the Benefit of John Miller: all (150) shares of EDF stock, all (311) shares of XYZ Company, all (100) shares of Ltd Foods, Inc. stock, all (100) shares of ACME Corporation.

The hypothetical Will provides for any dividends paid before distribution of the specific bequests to be considered income earned by the estate and that distributions of property shall be at the values listed in the personal representative's Inventory and not current values at time of distributions.

These sample forms are completed as if the personal representative has "waived" her right to collect a fee under Sec. 857.05 of the Wisconsin Statutes. If you will be collecting a personal representative's fee, it is recommended that you seek appropriate legal advice concerning the calculation of a personal representative's fee and the proper method of accounting for the fee on the Estate Account.

If you are administering an estate with a Will, distributions must follow the directions of the Will. It is recommended that you obtain appropriate tax or legal advice if you will be attempting to distribute proportionate shares of non-cash assets.

Application for Informal Administration

Form No.: PR-1801 (Rev. 10/07/2010)

Purpose of Form: To apply to the Court for informal administration of an estate.

Directions:

Type or print the name of decedent's county at the top of the Application and insert the name of the decedent below the words "In the Matter of the Estate of..."

Leave the case number blank, as the Probate Registrar will assign the case number.

1. Insert the decedent's:
 - a) date of birth
 - b) date of death
 - c) county and state in which he/she was domiciled
 - d) post office address
2. You must indicate in what way you are an "interested person" in the estate. Are you an heir, a beneficiary under a Will or Codicil, nominated as a Personal Representative in the Will or Codicil, or a nominated Trustee or trust beneficiary, etc.?
3. Check the appropriate box to indicate whether there is another estate open for this decedent.
4. You must insert an "estimate" of the total gross value of decedent's assets that are subject to this estate proceeding. This amount is not binding on you or anyone else; it is just an estimate.
5. Check the appropriate boxes concerning assistance programs from which the decedent may have received aid. If you are uncertain, check the box to indicate you lack information concerning aid.
6. This question MUST be answered. Indicate the name of the spouse, whether deceased or previously divorced, and check the appropriate boxes concerning benefits. If you are uncertain, check the box to indicate you lack information concerning aid. If there was more than one spouse, check the box and attach a separate page with the name and other appropriate information.
7. If the decedent had a Will or Codicil, include that information at this time. Also indicate the name of the person nominated in the decedent's Will as the Personal Representative or Executor. If more than one person has been nominated as "Co-Personal Representative," include the name for each party.

If any person nominated as Personal Representative is now deceased, include his or her name and date of death. Also indicate the name of the alternate personal representative.

If the Will establishes a Trust to be administered by a Trustee (a Testamentary Trust), insert the name of the person nominated as Trustee.

8. If you have made a diligent inquiry and are convinced that the decedent left no Will, then check this box.
9. Insert the name, relationship (what makes the person “interested”), and address of each “interested person”. Refer to the “definitions” section regarding who is an “interested person.” Make sure that you list the names of all the “interested persons.” If there are minors, include their dates of birth. If an interested person has been found by a court to be incompetent, include the name and address of his or her guardian. If there is an existing trust (not the Testamentary Trust established in the Will) that is named as a beneficiary under the Will, insert the name of the trustee for that trust and the trustee’s address.

Notice of Fiduciary Relationship

Form No.: IRS Form 56 (Rev. December 2011)

Purpose of the Form: To give notice to the Internal Revenue Service of the decedent's death and your fiduciary relationship as Personal Representative of the Estate (also applies to Trustees).

Directions:

Downloadable forms with instructions (printable and fillable) available on the web at:

<http://www.irs.gov/pub/irs-pdf/f56.pdf>.

From the IRS website:

“The term fiduciary means any person acting for another person.” It applies to persons who have positions of trust on behalf of others. A personal representative for a decedent's estate is a fiduciary.

If you are appointed to act in any fiduciary capacity for another, the IRS requires you to file a written notice with the IRS stating this, using Form 56, Notice Concerning Fiduciary Relationship. The instructions and other requirements are given on the back of the form.

You should file the written notice (or Form 56) as soon as all of the necessary information (including the EIN) is available. It notifies the IRS that, as the fiduciary, you are assuming the powers, rights, duties, and privileges of the decedent, and allows the IRS to mail to you all tax notices concerning the person (or estate) you represent. The notice remains in effect until you notify the appropriate IRS office that your relationship to the estate has terminated. A Form 56 is also used to notify the IRS that a fiduciary appointment has terminated.

“An executor means the executor or administrator of a decedent, who was appointed, qualified, and acting within the United States.” The personal representative of a decedent's estate is an “executor or administrator” if appointed, qualified, and acting within the United States.

The instructions and other requirements are given on the back of Form 5495. Do not file Form 5495 requesting a discharge from income or gift tax liability until the tax returns listed on this form have been filed. If you are requesting a discharge from personal liability for the estate tax, you may attach this form to Form 706, United States Estate(and Generation-Skipping Transfer) Tax Return, or you may file this form any time during the 3-year period following the date the Form 706 is filed. You must submit a separate request for discharge from personal liability for any returns filed after this Form 5495.

Information and Instructions

General Information

Ordinarily, the IRS has 3 years after an income tax, gift tax, or estate tax return has been filed to assess tax and demand payment of any deficiency. The executor representing a decedent's estate or a fiduciary of a decedent's trust may request a discharge from personal liability for the decedent's income, gift, and estate taxes. Nine months, or 6 months in the case of a fiduciary's request, after the IRS's receipt of the request for discharge or the earlier payment of any amount determined by the IRS to be owed, the executor or fiduciary will be discharged from personal liability for any deficiency in such tax thereafter found to be due. In certain instances where the date for payment of the estate tax has been extended, the IRS may require a bond as a condition for discharge.

An executor means the executor or administrator of a decedent, who was appointed, qualified, and acting within the United States.

When To File

Do not file Form 5495 requesting a discharge from income or gift tax liability until after you file the tax returns listed on the front of this form. If you are requesting a discharge from personal liability for the estate tax, you may attach this form to Form 706, United States Estate (and Generation-Skipping Transfer) Tax Return, or you may file this form any time during the 3-year period following the date the Form 706 is filed. You must submit a separate request for discharge from personal liability for any tax returns filed after this Form 5495.

Where To File

Send your request to the Internal Revenue Service Center where you filed the returns listed on the front of this form.
