Administration: A court-supervised process to:

- Give notice to creditors and interested persons.
- Determine who the heirs and beneficiaries are.
- Collect and inventory assets.
- Determine and pay federal and state taxes.
- Pay claims and administration expenses.
- Transfer assets of a decedent to heirs or to beneficiaries under a Will or Codicil.
- Account for the disposition of assets that are collected.

Beneficiary: A person named in the Will or Codicil to receive an interest in property from a decedent; sometimes referred to as legatee.

Bequest and Devise: Used in a Will or Codicil to grant an interest in property.

Codicil: A written document made by the decedent that changes an existing Will. In Wisconsin a Codicil and a Will, to be validly executed, must be executed with the signature of two witnesses and the signature of the testator or someone under his or her direction.

Deceased: A person who has died.

Decedent: The person who has died whose estate is subject to administration.

Domicile: Is the place where a person has his or her fixed and permanent home or residence to which he or she intends to return after any absence. It is not a special or temporary residence but a home or residence intended to be permanent for an unlimited or indefinite period.

Fair Market Value: A property's full value is defined as its fair market value, or the amount the property will sell for in an arms-length transaction on the open market between a willing seller not obliged to sell the property and a willing buyer not obliged to purchase it.

Heir: Any person, including a surviving spouse, who under state law is entitled under the statutes of intestate succession to an interest in property of the decedent.

Interested Person or Person Interested: Includes one or more of the following:

- Any heir of the decedent (even if not named in the Will or Codicil).
- Any beneficiary named in the Will or Codicil, and may include a beneficiary of a trust, the trustee of any existing trust, and a nominated trustee in the Will or Codicil.
- Personal Representative named in the Will.

Intestate: Not having made a valid Will. When a decedent has died “intestate,” the distribution of assets follows the statutes of intestate succession.

Issue: “Issue” are children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, and lineal descendants of more remote degrees, including those who occupy that relation by reason of adoption (under § 854.20, Wis. Stats.) and non-marital children and their lineal descendants (to the extent provided by § 852.05, Wis. Stats.).

Legal Description: A complete description of land recorded in a document filed with the register of deeds, such as occurs in a deed. Typically, this description is by lot number in a platted and recorded subdivision, or by “metes and bounds”. A postal address is not a “legal description.”

Per Stirpes: Property is divided into equal shares for the decedent's children, one share for each surviving child and one share for each deceased child; the deceased child's share is divided among the surviving issue of the deceased child (i.e. by right of representation).

Personal Representative: Any person authorized to administer a decedent's estate. Evidence of this authorization is found in Domiciliary Letters granted by the court or by the Probate Registrar. A personal representative may be nominated in a Will or Codicil.

Probate: Technically speaking, probate is the proof of the validity of a Will in court proceedings and the probate of the assets of a decedent involves the process of administering the assets as directed under the Will. However, probate or probate administration are terms often associated with administration of the property of persons who have died intestate (leaving no Will), as well as the property of minors, persons determined to be incompetent, and persons unwilling or unable to manage their income or assets.

Probate Registrar: An officer of the court designated to perform the functions of the court in informal estate proceedings.

Testate: Having made a valid Will. When a decedent has died “testate,” distribution of assets follow the Will.

Testamentary Documents: In addition to a Will and Codicil, any other governing document can be considered a testamentary document such as a marital property agreements.

Testamentary Trust: An arrangement outlined in a Will in which one party, appointed by the court as trustee (sometimes a bank), holds and distributes property for the benefit of another.

Trustee: A person who holds in trust the title or power over property.

Will: A document, properly executed prior to death, which directs distribution of property after death and nominates who will care for and distribute property. It may nominate someone to care for minor children and/or handle assets in a testamentary trust. In Wisconsin a Codicil and a Will, to be validly executed, must be executed with the signature of two witnesses and the signature of the testator or someone under his or her direction.

Frequently Asked Questions

What is the Purpose of this Booklet?

This booklet has been developed by the Wisconsin Register in Probate Association. It is NOT meant to provide legal advice; it is merely a guide that may help you through the estate administration process. We suggest that you review the terms under “Definitions” on page 3 before reading on.

Look for this check mark, it will give you tips on navigating the informal administration estate process.

What Types of Administration are there?

Formal and Informal Administration

Formal Administration is the administration of the decedent’s estate, intestate or testate, with exercise of continuous supervision by the Court. A Formal Administration requires the assistance of an attorney.

Informal Administration may be granted without an attorney's assistance. Informal Administration is the administration of the decedent’s estate without continuous court supervision, and is supervised by a Probate Registrar.

Summary Settlement

Summary Settlement is a type of estate administration designed to assist in settlement of small estates and does not require an attorney's assistance. Summary Settlement is available for estates having a value of $50,000 or less, if the decedent had a surviving spouse/domestic partner or had surviving minor children.

Summary Settlement is also available if the value of the estate does not exceed certain costs, expenses, allowances and claims, regardless of whether there is a surviving spouse/domestic partner or minor children. The value of the estate is calculated by subtracting from the gross amount of assets any debts for which property of the estate is security.

Summary Assignment

Summary Assignment is a type of estate administration for estates of $50,000 or less and was designed to assist in settlement of small estates that cannot be settled by a Summary Settlement.

It may be appropriate for you to consult with an attorney before attempting any of the types of estate administrations.

Transfers of Property without Estate Administration

There is a method to transfer a decedent's assets without a court supervised administration, called "Transfer by Affidavit," for estates having a value of $50,000 or less. The State Bar of Wisconsin maintains and updates this form and you can find the guide for the forms at PR-1831. The person who completes and uses this form has certain legal responsibilities and it may be appropriate to consult with an attorney before deciding whether you should use a "Transfer by Affidavit".

What is Informal Probate?

Informal probate is the administration of the decedent's estate, testate or intestate, without continuous supervision of the court. Informal Administration is started by filing an application with the Probate Registrar in the county where the decedent domiciled (i.e. resided) and/or where the decedent's assets are located if the person did not domicile in Wisconsin. The Probate Registrar will determine whether a Will is entitled to be probated and whether the application for Informal Administration should be granted or denied.

Common reasons for denial of an application for Informal Administration can include;

- The original Last Will and Testament of decedent cannot be found.
- Improper execution/attestation and or validity of decedent's Last Will and Testament.
- Unclear or impossible provisions in the decedent's Last Will and Testament.
- The decedent's Will prohibits Informal Administration.
- If decedent died without a Will and all heirs do not consent in writing to Informal Administration or the nominated personal representative.
- If an interested person/heir/beneficiary demands Formal Administration.

The denial of an application does not prevent the filing of a petition for Formal Administration by a person interested in the estate.

How Can I tell if Informal Probate is the Way to Go?

The choice of estate administration is a legal decision and court staff cannot provide this advice to you. Decisions about which estate administration procedure would be most appropriate are often affected by the presence or absence of interested persons who do not agree on what should be done, tax issues, the size of the estate, claims, and the need to have a judge determine or decide issues such as disputed claims, the validity of a will, the meaning of the terms of a will, or who are the heirs.

You should determine if the decedent died testate (with a Last Will and Testament) or intestate (without a Will). You must make a diligent search for a Will and/or Codicil of the decedent. If, after a diligent search, you do not find a Will, it may be that the decedent has left no Will and any estate administration must be done intestate (without a Will).

If the decedent has not advised you where his or her original Will can be located, some places to search might include a safe deposit box in the decedent's bank; the safe, or firebox at the decedent's home, or wherever the decedent kept his or her other important papers. Sometimes the original Will may be found in the Office of Register in Probate where a decedent deposited it for "safekeeping" before his or her death. Not all counties, however, allow such deposits for "safekeeping." Sometimes, the original Will may be in the possession of the attorney who drafted it. There may also be an original Codicil or Codicils that modify the Will.

Make a list of the heirs under the statutes, see Intestate Succession Chart. Then, if there is a Will (including any Codicils), make a list of the beneficiaries (those named in the Will and Codicils).

Make a list of all assets in which the decedent had an interest. Include real estate and all personal property (i.e. cash, CD's, stocks, bonds, vehicles, machinery, promissory notes, etc.). The list should include the estimated value of each asset and how each asset is owned (i.e. solely, jointly, marital, payable at death, etc.). If you are not able to obtain all this information because the assets are solely owned, just make the best list you can for now; the exact details can be resolved later.

You are now ready to determine the type of estate administration procedure required to settle the final affairs of the decedent. Choosing the right procedure is very important. You are encouraged to discuss the decedent's Will, the working relationship among the heirs and/or beneficiaries and the decedent's asset situation, as determined above, with an attorney.

If it appears that informal estate administration is the preferred procedure, read on.

Where can an Application for Informal Estate Administration be Filed?

An application for informal estate administration is to be filed in the county where the decedent was “domiciled” (i.e. resides) at the time of his or her death. However, if the decedent had no domicile in Wisconsin, an application for informal estate administration may be filed in any county in Wisconsin where property of the decedent is located.

Do I need an Attorney for Informal Estate Administration?

Wisconsin statutes do not require you to hire an attorney to assist with an informal estate administration, however you may seek the advice or services of an attorney at any point during the process. During the estate administration process, a demand for formal proceedings may be filed with the court, at which time, the services of an attorney may be necessary.

It is important for you to remember that most Probate Registrars are not attorneys. Even if your local Registrar is an attorney, statutes prohibit Registrars from giving legal advice. A Registrar's role is to advise a personal representative, within the Registrar's competence, in the preparation of any of the documents required to be filed with the court in an informal estate administration. Think of this as giving advice as to how the various forms should be completed, not giving advice as to how you should proceed in any area. This guide is an attempt to assist the Registrar in giving a personal representative the required document preparation direction.

How Do I Start an Informal Estate Administration?

All forms are available on-line and can be found at: www.wicourts.gov.

Use black ink, keep your originals and file legible copies.

You may file your documents by using one of these three methods:

- Fill the forms in on-line as a Word document and then print; or
- Print the forms and complete by hand in ink; or
- You may also take advantage of the Wisconsin Court System's electronic filing options and eFile your probate paperwork at <https://www.wicourts.gov/ecourts/efilecircuit/index.jsp>.
- Follow the instructions to register for an e account.
- Create an eFiling account, pay the appropriate fee and electronically file your paperwork.

The original Will, Codicils and any other testamentary documents must be delivered to the court.

The following forms are required to initiate an informal proceeding:

The following startup forms are always required:

- Application for Informal Administration (PR-1801)
- Proof of Heirship (PR-1806)
- Consent to Serve (PR-1807)
(Signed by nominated personal representative and may include Appointment/Acceptance of Resident Agent.)
- Statement of Informal Administration (PR-1808)
- Domiciliary Letters (PR-1810)

Wisconsin law changed and it is no longer necessary for most documents to be signed before a notary. The forms in this brochure and instructions about using a notary are out of date.

If you have obtained the signatures of all interested persons on the Waiver and Consent form, the following forms are also required:

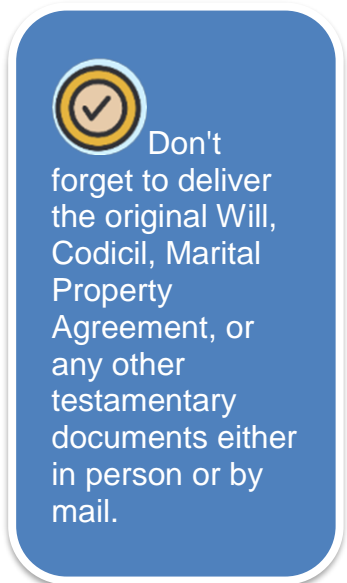

- Waiver and Consent (Informal Administration) (PR-1803)
- Notice to Creditors (PR-1804)

If you have not obtained the signature of all the interested persons on the Waiver and Consent form, you will be required to complete this form instead:

- Notice Setting Time to Hear Application and Deadline for Filing Claims (Informal Administration) (PR-1805)

The Probate Registrar may require the following documents, depending on local practice and who the heirs/beneficiaries are:

- Signature Bond in Estate or Trust Proceedings (PR-1809A)
- Surety Bond (obtained from an insurance agent) and the Court Approval of Signature Bond in Estate or Trust Proceedings (PR-1809B)
- Affidavit of Service (Probate) (PR-1817)
- Consent to Serve as Trustee (PR-1930) (signed by nominated trustee – may include Appointment/Acceptance of Resident Agent)
- Letters of Trust (Informal and Formal Administration) (PR-1931)
- Declination to Serve or Resignation (Informal and Formal Administration) (PR-1802)
- Order Appointing Guardian Ad Litem or Attorney (GF-131A)
- Consent to Act (GF-131B)
- Petition to Dispense with Guardian ad Litem (Informal and Formal Administration) (PR-1820)
- Order Dispensing with Guardian ad Litem (Informal and Formal Administration) (PR-1821)

You are now ready to apply for informal estate administration. It is always advisable (and in some counties required) that you set an appointment to see the Probate Registrar or a designated staff member when you are ready to file the above documents.

How Do I Complete the Informal Estate Administration?

The following documents are required to be filed in an informal estate administration:

- Affidavit or Proof of Publication (Provided by the newspaper once publication has been paid.)
- Inventory (Informal and Formal Administration) (PR-1811) (A statutory filing fee must accompany this form.)
- Affidavit of Service (Probate) (PR-1817) (of Inventory to Heirs/Beneficiaries)
- Estate Receipt (Informal and Formal Administration) (PR-1815)(Signed by heirs/beneficiaries and claimants.)
- Statement of Personal Representative to Close Estate (Informal Administration)(PR-1816)

The Probate Registrar may require the following documents depending on local practice and/or the particulars of the estate you are administering:

- Estate Account (Informal and Formal Administration) (PR-1814)
- Affidavit of Service (Probate) (PR-1817) (of final Estate Account to Heirs/Beneficiaries)
- Notice of Distribution to Ward (Informal and Formal Administration) (PR-1822) (To notify the court appointing a guardian of the estate of the total property to be distributed to the guardian of the estate for the benefit of the guardian's ward at least ten days prior to the distribution.)
- Closing Certificate for Fiduciaries (Obtained by filing a Schedule CC form with the Wisconsin Department of Revenue)
- Receipt for Perpetual Care or Funeral Receipt
- Proof of Recording of Documents Transferring Real Estate (PR-1914)
- Statement of Transfer of Interest in Property (Informal Administration) (PR-1828)
- Statement of Termination and Confirmation of Interest(s) in Property (Informal Administration) (PR-1827)

Can You Give Me Some Practical Suggestions?

Notice to Creditors/Interested Persons

- It is your responsibility to take the Notice to Creditors or Notice Setting Time to Hear Application and Deadline for Filing Claims (Informal Administration) to the newspaper for publication.
- It is also your responsibility to mail a copy of the Notice(s) to all known creditors of the decedent.
- When you pay the bill for the publication, the newspaper will provide you with an Affidavit or Proof of Publication. File the Affidavit or Proof of Publication with the Court.
- It is your responsibility to mail a copy of the Notice Setting Time to Hear Application, Application for Informal Administration and a copy of the Will and Codicil to all interested persons.
- An Affidavit of Service (PR-1817) provides evidence for the file that documents were sent to the persons and/or businesses whose names and addresses are shown.
- If a hearing on notice is required, the Personal Representative will be appointed after the hearing once the following documents are filed:
 - Affidavit of Publication from newspaper;
 - Form PR-1817 Affidavit of Service showing proof Notice was mailed to all interested persons.
 - Bond, if required. Determination will be made by the Probate Registrar whether bond will be a signature bond (Form PR-1809A) or a surety bond.

Claims filed by Creditors

- If a claim is paid/satisfied by you, the creditor must provide an Estate Receipt (PR-1815) acknowledging complete satisfaction or settlement of the claim.
- If you dispute the claim, you will be required to demand “formal administration” to have a judge decide the dispute.
- You must be represented by an attorney in proceedings before a judge. For this reason it is wise to seek the assistance of an attorney as soon as you determine that a claim should be disallowed.
- If a claim has been served on you or mailed to you, your objection, offset or counterclaim must be served upon or mailed to the claimant and filed with the court within 60 days of when the claim was mailed to or served upon you as personal representative.

Inventory

- As you gather the decedent's assets in preparation for filing the Inventory form, think of the Inventory as a snapshot of the fair market value of all assets owned by the decedent on the date of death.
- The Inventory is an important legal document that establishes the fair market value of assets on date of death and incorrect valuations can have a significant impact on the personal representative and distributees of the assets listed in the Inventory.
- Income tax basis problems and disputes about proportionate distribution of assets are examples of issues that may arise from improper valuation.
 - Although you are not required to hire a qualified and disinterested appraiser to assist you in determining the value of assets, you should consider whether you have sufficient skills to appraise inventoried assets on your own.
 - You may also wish to consult with a tax advisor or attorney before filing your Inventory.
 - Provide a copy of the Inventory to all interested persons and file an Affidavit of Service

Final Account

- You should prepare a final Estate Account and furnish copies to all heirs/beneficiaries.
- Think of the final Estate Account as a record of what came into the estate and what went out of the estate between the date of death and the completion of the estate.
- This form should be completed only after you have paid all the decedent's outstanding bills, including the funeral bill, costs of administration of the estate, any proper claims and all applicable taxes.
- Any additional property listed in Schedule A of the Estate Account is subject to an additional .2% filing fee.

Deadlines

- The Inventory must be filed or exhibited no later than the date set in the Notice of Estate Administration Deadlines
- An estate can be closed any time after the final date to file claims has passed and should be closed within 12 months of the date the estate was opened.
- The deadlines are set in the Notice of Estate Administration Deadlines which is issued to the Personal Representative upon appointment.
- An extension of time may be granted by the Probate Registrar. You must complete the Petition for Extension of Time (PR-1833) and Order for Extension of Time (PR-1834) and file these forms with the Probate Registrar to consider.
- Failure to meet any deadline established by the Probate Registrar will result in the personal representative being required to appear in court to show cause as to why the personal representative should not be removed or other sanctions imposed.
- The Statement of Personal Representative to Close Estate is normally the final document filed in an estate, but it does not mean that you are done. If, six months after filing the statement, no other proceedings are pending in the court, your appointment as personal representative terminates.

If you will be selling or transferring an interest in real estate, you will be required to sign a deed or transfer document with the proper legal description (not a postal address). You may wish to have an attorney prepare this important legal document, as mistakes in the legal description can affect ownership interest in the property.

Wisconsin Statutes

- You may need to review the statutes during this process.
- Check your law library at your local courthouse, public library, the Wisconsin State Law Library (<http://wilawlibrary.gov/>) or the Wisconsin State Legislature (<http://docs.legis.wisconsin.gov/statutes>).

Within the scope that has been discussed earlier in this booklet, your local Probate Registrar is here to see you through the informal estate administration process. We hope this booklet is helpful and we welcome your comments on ways that we may improve it to better assist others in the future.

What Should I Know About Being a Personal Representative?

A statement in a Will about who should serve as personal representative does not automatically allow you to start performing the duties of a personal representative; the statement in the Will is simply a nomination by the decedent. The Probate Registrar or Judge must appoint you before you assume the duties of a personal representative. The document that shows others you are appointed as Personal Representative is called "Domiciliary Letters." For a nominal statutory fee, the Probate Registrar will supply you as many certified copies of this document as you feel you will need at any time throughout the estate administration process.

Serving as personal representative is a very important job. You may be required to post a bond to protect the assets in the estate. You must keep all interested persons informed of the status of the estate proceedings and complete the estate in a timely fashion. The Probate Registrar will send you a Notice of Estate Administration Deadlines showing the Inventory due date and the date by which the estate is to be closed.

For all practical purposes, a personal representative is acting in place of the decedent. You are expected to handle the assets of the decedent just as any prudent person would handle his or her own assets.

Your duties will include taking possession (marshaling) of all the decedent's assets and filing an Inventory with the date of death values of all assets you have in your control. You may need to open a checking account to assist you with keeping accurate records of income and expenses. The Probate Registrar cannot require that you use a checking account, nor is it always needed.

You will give notice to creditors and may give notice to interested persons by publication in the newspaper. Your Registrar can identify which papers are eligible for publication. Notice must also be given to interested persons by mail or personal service if Waiver and Consent forms cannot be obtained.

You may be converting assets to cash, selling real estate, running a business, insuring and keeping property in good repair.

You will collect any income due to the decedent like interest, dividends, rent, etc. You will pay bills, settle proper claims or object to claims that are not appropriate.

You must file a Closing Certificate for Fiduciaries. This document is obtained by preparing and filing a Schedule CC, Request for a Closing Certificate for Fiduciaries, with the Wisconsin Department of Revenue. See link for the Wisconsin Department of Revenue at the end of this booklet. There may be additional final and fiduciary tax returns to complete. You are encouraged to utilize the services of a competent tax preparer or an attorney to help you with this aspect of the estate.

You must prepare a final Estate Account, showing all money and assets that came into the estate between date of death and distribution, and all money and assets that were paid out of the estate. You may be required to file the Estate Account with the Probate Registrar. To prepare an Estate Account, you must keep accurate records. There are many ways to keep records. An inexpensive method is to prepare a ring binder or spiral notebook for “scheduling” your financial activities, such as receiving assets, paying bills or making distributions. A sample “scheduling” page can be found on at the end of this booklet. If you make entries in your notebook or ring binders as these activities occur, there is less chance that you will make mistakes in your accounting and it will take less time to complete your Estate Account. It will also be easier for someone to help you complete your accounting if you have kept accurate records.

Applying for an Employer Identification Number (EIN) is a free service offered by the Internal Revenue Service. Beware of websites on the Internet that charge for this free service.

You will distribute assets according to the Will and/or statutes and secure receipts from those receiving assets.

Finally, you will file a Statement of Personal Representative to Close Estate. If no proceedings challenging your Statement or otherwise involving you as personal representative are pending in the court six months after your Statement is filed, your appointment as personal representative terminates.

As personal representative, you may obtain a discharge from personal liability for federal tax deficiencies by preparing and filing Form 5495 with the Internal Revenue Service. A link to obtain Form 5495 is included in this Guide at the end of this book. Please note that the discharge from personal liability applies only for tax returns that have been filed and are listed in your Form 5495 or filed with it.

How do I Complete the Required Forms?

On the following pages you will find samples of the "usual" informal administration forms you will need to complete. A brief explanation appears just prior to each “Sample” form.

As personal representative, you are responsible for paying any taxes that are owed by the estate or the decedent, from the estate assets. These include the decedent’s gift and income taxes, as well as the income and estate taxes owed by the estate. You may incur personal liability for these taxes if they are owed and not paid from available estate assets. You should consult with an attorney or tax advisor about these issues if you have questions about potential tax liabilities of the decedent or the estate. You should investigate whether all potential taxes owed by the decedent were paid. A starting point would be for you or your advisor to review prior tax returns of the decedent, as well as any actions of the decedent that could give rise to income or gift tax liability.

Wisconsin requires that you use the mandatory probate forms you see in this booklet. Forms may be available for purchase from your Probate Registrar. You may also access the most up-to-date forms on the Internet at the State of Wisconsin Supreme Court website. The forms are available at no cost in Word or PDF format to complete online or on your electronic device.

You may also take advantage of the Wisconsin Court System's electronic filing options and eFile your probate paperwork at <https://www.wicourts.gov/ecourts/efilecircuit/index.jsp>.

- Follow the instructions to register for an e account.
- Create an eFiling account, pay the appropriate fee and electronically file your paperwork.

Remember, the Probate Registrar cannot fill out the forms for you unless you have a qualified disability under the American with Disability Act. The Probate Registrar is, however, required by statute to check the data you provide and, if necessary, request further information from you or to file an amended document.

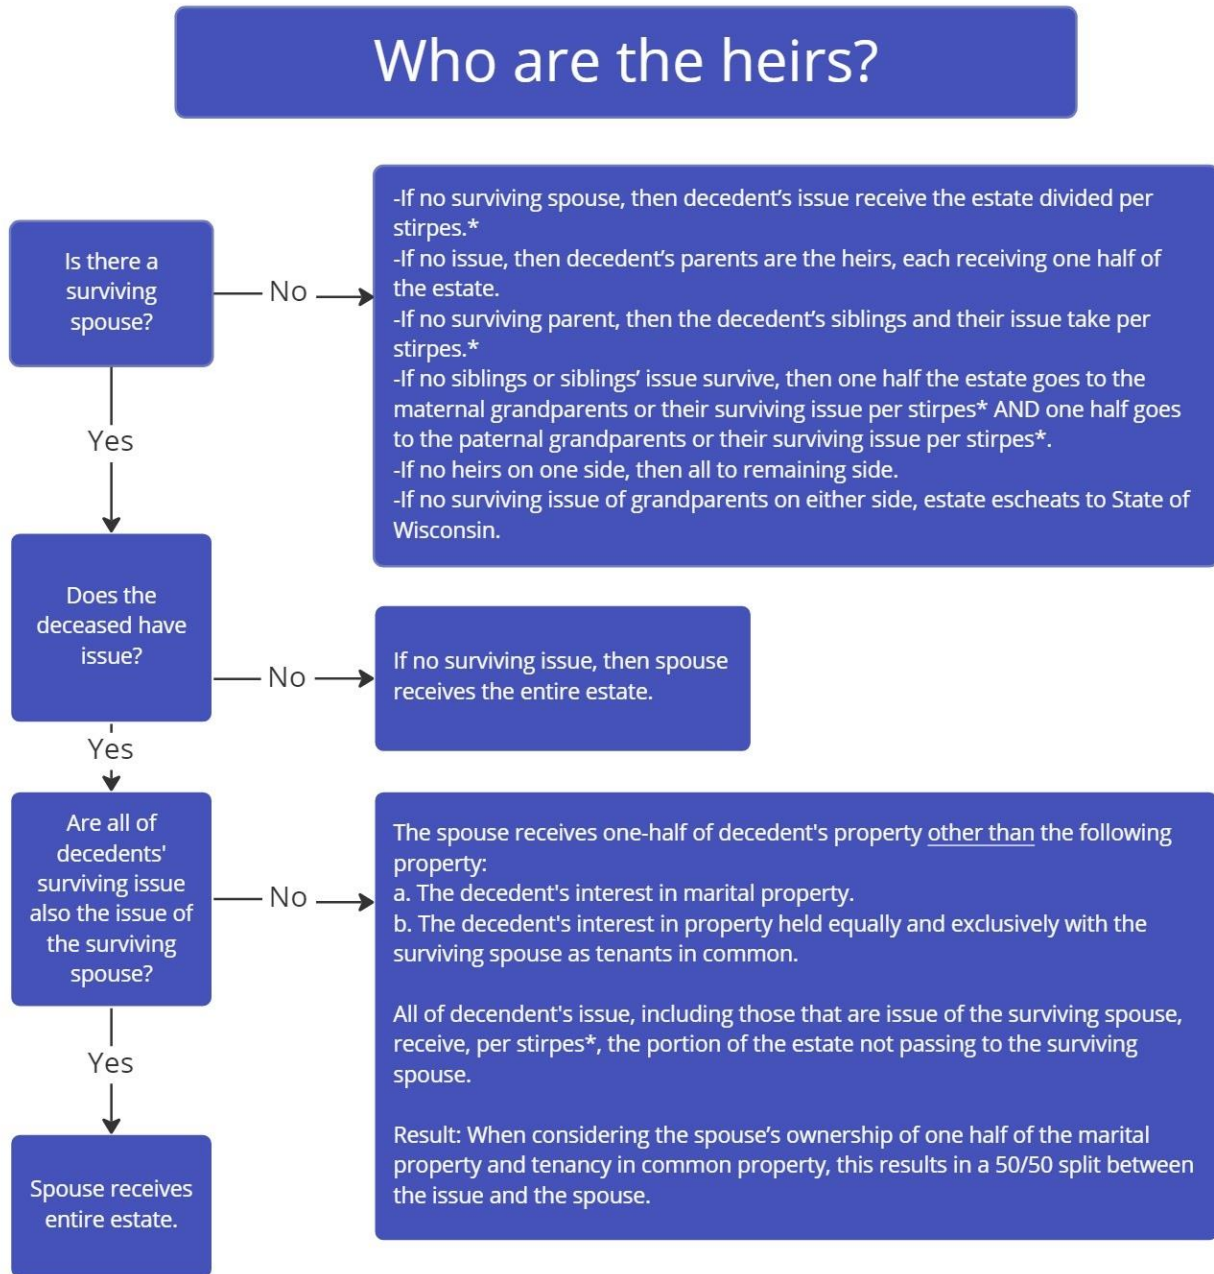

The original Will, Codicils and any other testamentary documents must be delivered to the court.

Intestate Succession Chart

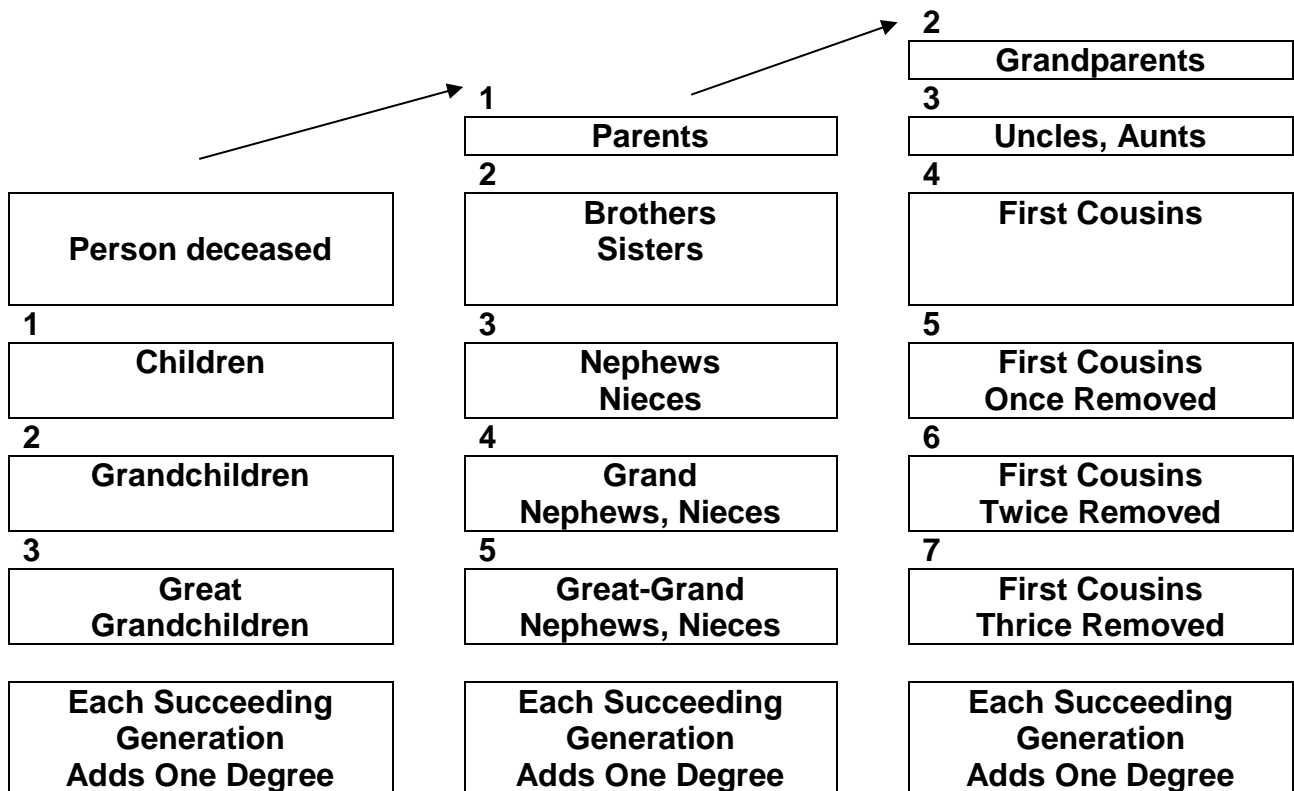

If there is no will, the decedent's heirs receive the property. Wisconsin Law defines who the heir is when there is no will. Wis. Stats §852.01. To determine the heirs use this flow chart.

For this chart, if there is a surviving domestic partner, that person takes the place of the surviving spouse.

Per Stirpes: Property is divided at each generation, one share for each surviving person and one share for each deceased person; any deceased person's share is divided among that person's issue in the same way. (Also referred to as by right of representation). So if 3 children, the portion going to decedent's children is divided into thirds. Then if one of the children is also deceased and had 2 children, that share is divided equally between the two grandchildren. If one of those grandchildren is deceased then between their issue, but if none, that share goes to the others surviving in that generation.

See Wis. Stats. §§ 990.001(16) Degrees of Kinship.

Forms

Wisconsin law changed and it is no longer necessary for most documents to be signed before a notary. The forms in this brochure and instructions about using a notary are out of date. Please use the latest form.

Please type or print in black ink legibly when filling out your forms, as it will make it easier for you to make copies for filing and notice to interested persons. Please retain the originals in a safe place, as you may be required to produce them at a later date.

The Probate Registrar cannot fill out the forms for you unless you have a qualified disability under the American with Disability Act. The Probate Registrar is, however, required by statute to review the information you provide and, if necessary, request further information from you or to file an amended document.

Any form that requires notarization of your signature must be notarized. Remember to wait to sign the document; a notary must see you actually sign the form. You may be required to produce identification. If you are not going to come to your local Office of Register in Probate to sign the form, you can usually find a notary public at your bank. If you live in another state, you may use a local notary.

Important Information about these Sample Forms

The following sample forms are completed as if the decedent had a valid Will. The decedent is single.

This hypothetical Will provides for specific bequests to individuals and an equal sharing (25% each) of remaining (residual) estate. The specific bequests are as follows:

- Mary Smith, individually: the antique duck decoy collection, all personal property
- Susan Brown, individually: Fishing Equipment and tackle and Tundra long range hunting rifle.
- Mary Smith, as trustee of the Trust for the Benefit of John Miller: 250 shares of AT&T stock.

The hypothetical Will provides for any dividends paid before distribution of the specific bequests to be considered income earned by the estate (not the beneficiary) and that distributions of property shall be at the values listed in the personal representative's Inventory and not current values at time of distributions.

If you are administering an estate with a Will, distributions must follow the directions of the Will. It is recommended that you obtain appropriate tax or legal advice if you will be attempting to distribute proportionate shares of non-cash assets and if family members want to make alternative arrangements.

There are special considerations for married persons due to marital property rules in Wisconsin. We have provided an example of an inventory to show marital property designations.

Inventory (Informal and Formal Administration)

Form No.: PR-1811

Purpose of Form: To identify any property and assets in which the decedent had any interest and list the fair market value of such interests on the date of death that are subject to estate administration.

Directions:

Type or print the name of decedent's county at the top of the form and insert the name of the decedent below the words "In the Matter of the Estate of..." The second line can be used for any alternative names with the designation "a/k/a" for also known as. Check the box for "Informal Administration." Fill in the case number assigned.

- Fill in date of death where designated.
- Fill in total value of property/assets subject to administration (from page 2).
- Fill in total value of encumbrances, liens or other charges (from page 2).
- Fill in net value of property/assets subject to administration (from page 2).
- Sign inventory in front of a notary public (after all Schedules are completed on page 2).
- Fill in the "Form completed by" box.

- Fill in case number.
- List/describe, by numbered item the property subject to administration and fair market values as of date of death. Include accrued interest and dividends, if any.
- Identify each item of property that is marital property. Remember for married persons, each owns one half of the items of marital property regardless of title. You may want to consult a lawyer regarding this issue.
- List with each item of property any encumbrance, lien, or charge.
- This is not meant for listing "charge cards." A "charge" is something like a lien or encumbrance on a specific item of property. A mortgage, for example, is an encumbrance on real estate.
- Even if the charge exceeds the value, the net value of the asset cannot be less than -0-
- Attach supporting schedule, if necessary - read the form carefully.

The second Inventory example on page 53 shows how martial property would be classified.
